Separate Pact With Germany If Talks Fail

Nikita Khrushchev said today Russia will sign a separate peace treaty giving East Germany control of West Berlin if the Big Four summit talks in May fail to reach agreement on an over-all German settlement.

Indonesia in turn pledged to remain neutral in the cold war.

The Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany has never been abandoned, and in recent weeks has been repeated at intervals. But this was the first time Khrushchev had tied it to the outcome of the May summit conference.

"The question of Berlin is one of eliminating vestiges of the Second World War," the Soviet leader declared. "We cannot talk about peace without eliminating these vestiges."

Khrushchev said Russia is trying to convince the West of the need for a peace treaty on all Germany. If this is not concluded, he said, Russia will sign a separate agreement with East Germany.

If that happens, he said, all postwar agreements affecting Germany "would cease to be valid" and West Berlin would come under the authority of Communist East Germany "because West Berlin stands on territory belonging to the East German Democratic Republic."

Khrushchev also rejected the idea of a German plebiscite to determine whether the Russian or Western plan for unification of that divided country should be accepted.

The council's pre-budget brief to Finance Minister Fleming and Revenue Minister Nowlan said that if revenues continue high "a careful program of debt retirement" is preferable to tax cuts.

However, it said the government expenditure and orderly debt retirement "can make a real contribution" in this regard.

3, A careful re-examination of the entire tax structure "including the revenue sources and needs of all levels of government."

Such a revision should be ready for use at some future time when government tax measures may again be needed to support the economy.

The brief, presented by a delegation headed by council chairman R. H. Keefler of Montreal, made these major proposals:

Caradian savings, as a means of decreasing this country's dependence on foreign capital. Careful control of government expenditure and orderly debt retirement "can make a real contribution" in this regard.

3, A careful re-examination of the continued high premium on the Canadian dollar which penalized export industries and placed Canadian manufacturers at a competitive disadvantage on world markets.

Regarding tax policy, the brief commended the government for moving steadily towards a balanced budget and the government for temporary use of variations in taxation and expenditure to combat economic ups and downs.

On monetary-policy, it said:

The Gentlemen's Agreement

MR. TORU HAGIWARA, JAPan's able ambassador to Ot-tawa, writing in The New Cana-dian, makes it clear that his Gov-ernment is dissatisfied with Canada's almost complete ban on Japda's almost complete ban on Japanese immigration.

Under existing policy, as Mr. Hagiwara observes, Canada admits no Japanese except a few close relatives of Japanese Canadians living here already, and then on compassionate grounds only. But Mr. Hagiwara says his Government has made no representations on that score to the Canadian Government. It is for the Canadian Japanese themselves to approach the Canadian Japanese themselves to approach the Cana-dian Government if they desire the admission of their relatives in larger

The Japanese Government, however, is interested in another ques-tion, recently discussed in Ottawa by Prime Minister Kishl of Japan.

As Mr. Hagiwara explains these discussions: "To further develop trade between the two countries, Japan is at present exploring the possibility of establishing enterprises in Canada employing Canadian labor to complete semi-finished or component materials imported from Japan. Such a venture, I believe, would be of mutual advantage as it would help to achieve greater stability in our trade relations and at the same time create employment opportunities for Canadians.

"In this connection, it is imperative that a small number of Japanese managerial and technical personnel be admitted to Canada. The admission of these personnel and the granting of the status of permanent residence is the question of prime concern to Japan because whether or not such enterprises could be established depends on this point. I would like to make clear at this time that, aside from the limited number of key personnel from Japan, any industry that may be established will employ Canadian labor."

Japan's desire to invest capital and build industries in Canada outlined here some weeks ago in dispatches from Tokyo. Now this plan is officially disclosed and it raises a clear question of policy which the Canadian Government must answer: Is Canada prepared to admit a handful of Japanese managers and technicians or, by refusing them admittance, will it lose the chance of securing valuable industries, employment and capital?

It should be understood at once that Japan has no wish to move many of its people to Canada or any other country. Last year less than 12,000 Japanese emigrated out of a population of some 92,000,000, most of them going to South America. As a solution of its pop-ulation problem emigration is insignificant to Japan.

Besides, that problem is already ing solved at home by systematic th control. But Japan has capital and skills to export and by building industries in other countries Canada can provide employ-row meaning of the term, but she would certainly be right in there with millions of people the world over who make a hobby of gathering quantities of things they like.

Stamps, of course, are recognized Agreement under which a small, fixed number of Japanese was adfixed number of Japanese was admitted to Canada annually.

This arrangement would assure the admittance of Japanese capital, when Canada lacks sufficient capital of its own and is rapidly building up debt in a single foreign nation, the United States. Also, a fixed quota of Japanese immigrants, too small to have any effect whatever upon the population of Canada, would remove from Canada's third largest customer and an essential ally the present sting of a discrimination applied to no other nation.

It is to be hoped Mr. Diefenbaker will give an early and favorable answer to the question raised by Mr. Hagiwara. Referring to the death of Col. Vic-tor Spencer. It was he who in August, 1914, at Pemberton Meadows, donated complete uniforms to Elliott's Horse, organized and sent overseas by Mr. R.

But that is only a starter. People collect wishbones, saltcellars, things that remind them of pigs, old dental tools, cigar snippers and bands and boxes and labels, pebbles, paperweights, nursing bottles, theatrical handbills, butfons and a million other things.

Some collectors collect just to have a collection. Others collect for love of the objects. Others as an investment. And some because a habit gets beyond their

Many of us who don't specialize in our collections spend a lifetime amassing a broad cross-section of whatever we can get hold of. Crowded Quarters

Because most Yugoslavs live in desperately overcrowded quarters—a large family in two or three rooms—they throng the streets for the "korzo," the four-hour period each evening when traffic is prohibited from several downtown streets for the benefit of strollers. They also have their favorite cafes to while away the hours away from home with gossip, heavy food and slivovitia.

But soon the housing problem to

But soon the housing problem too may begin to ease. The government plans this year to start construction of more than 16,000 dwelling units, almost two and one-half times the 1959 figure. Many of these will be built in New Belgrade, the flat reclaimed land across the Sava River which will eventually have a population of about

There aren't many sets yet—few can afford them—and programs have to be piped in from Italy two or three times a week. But if you talk to the manager of the Belgrade department store which opened last July he leaves little doubt about the trend.

Besides TV sets, this modernistic store on the Terazije, behind Marx-Engels Square, sells everything from hairpins to washing machines; in short, just about everything you see in a Canadian department store.

decreased fare of 5 cents. The Yugoslavs admit the quality is not yet quite as good as in the West ft certainly isn't—and the prices, rela-tively speaking, are much higher. But last December, the peak month, the store had an average of about 50,000 customers a day and sold nearly $1. 500,000's worth of merchandise (calculated at the official if unrealistic exchange rate of 300 dinars to the dollar),

It was easy enough for the worker to pay the rent until this year because it was artificially maintained at a level-of about $12 to $15 a month. CANADIAN TELEVISION viewers watched their national representatives win the last Winter Olympics hockey game against Russia Sunday to finish second in the series to the undefeated United States team.

The result was not surprising for the hockey club, which had not been too highly rated before the competition. At the moment, I've reached the point of won-dering whether I really want to go. For it seems to me that it would be hard to beat the few hours I spent recently at Thetis Lake.

Thetis Lake.

The visit was made with two friends who'd come down the Island to shop in Victoria and to see Thetis for themselves. When they finally left for home, they said they'd be coming down again soon, and bringing their children so that they could see the wild flowers growing undisturbed beside the trail over Seymour Hill.

We took that faint trail ourselves and we took that faint trail ourselves and en dipped down into the gully between symour Hill and Round Hill. (The Thetis ark Nature Sanctuary Association's green occhure shows the general direction of the trail.)

"It's incredible, so close to a city," my friends kept saying. "We might be a thousand miles away. Whoever it belongs to, this woodland area is an asset to the city. Look at us, for instance. We didn't need to shop in Victoria. We could have gone north instead of south. But we came to Victoria because we wanted to combine it with a stop off at Thetis on our way home."

Another friend said much the same to me on another trip to Thetis Lake.

"One of the reasons that I continue to live in Victoria," she said, "is that I can get out to a place like this with so little effort. After work, in summer-time."

"You're one of those wicked non-tax-payers who shouldn't have any opinions about Thetis Lake," I said.

"That's utter rubbish," she said. "I've just as much right as anyone to howl with fury at the suggestion that a B.C. Electric power line should be allowed to pranee through the park. I don't live within the city limits, but my nickels go into the city's parking meters. My car was bought in Victoria. I have it serviced in the city. I buy alk my clothes there. My doctor, my dentist, my hairdresser all work there. I support its symphony. I eat quite often in the city, and I buy much of my food from its stores. Indirectly, I'm helping to pay a lot of city taxes. lot of city taxes.

"To tell you the truth," she added, "I think the cry about 'Oh, they don't live in Victoria' is a lot of misleading nonsense."

"If City Council gave Thetis to the provincial government," said a man we know, "it would pay them hands down. Council hasn't the money to develop or maintain it. What about roads and trails? If the area belonged to the Province, the cost would fall on the provincial government, and yet the taxpayers and merchants of Victoria would reap the benefit."

The main point as I see it is that this area should be dedicated as a park so that it will be safe from any form of alienation. And since City Council, by its own admission, can't afford to maintain it in the way best suited to the public need, it should be given to the provincial government, if the government will take it.

And that, it seems to me, is what most people want.

RAMBLER WINS COMPACT CAR ECONOMY TEST.

Rambler American tops nearest competitor by 6.67 miles per gallon in Pure Oil Economy Trials at Daytona

Once again Rambler proves it's America's Economy King Under official NASCAR supervision, the Rambler

American won over all other U.S. economy cars to sweep the Compact Car Class in the Pure Oil Economy Trials held at the Daytona International Speedway Public Proving Grounds, February 1-3.

But gasoline mileage is only one measure of Rambler economy. Rambler owners save, too, on lowest prices, lowest upkeep, and highest resale value.

Discover Rambler's all-around economy yourself. See your Rambler dealer today.

HERE ARE THE OFFICIAL PURE OIL ECONOMY TRIAL RESULTS

RAMBLER AMERICAN 51.281 Miles Per Gallon

FALCON 44.614 MPG - Rambler gave 14.9% more mileage VALIANT 41.801 MPG - Rambler gave 22.7% more mileage CORVAIR 39.882 MPG - Rambler gave 28.6% more mileage

32.965 MPG - Rambler gave 55.6% more mileage

IMPORTANT

All cars in the Pure Oil Economy Trials were driven by expert drivers and operated under ideal conditions. The winning Rambler American Custom was equipped with optional overdrive which is not available on most other cars in the Compact Car Class and averaged better than 25 miles per hour. No car owner should expect to approach in every day driving the mileage achieved in this test by Rambler or any of the other cars. However, the results prove again the superior economy that R owners enjoy.

$200,000 Mill Fire 'Was Set' Says Chief

7,000 See Blaze Destroy Landmark

Investigators from the B.C. fire marshal's office were due in Victoria today to start an investigation of the $200,000 blaze which Saturday afternoon destroyed most of Crowe Gonnason Co. Ltd. lumber mill.

Fire Chief James Bayliss, after a preliminary investigation of his own, believes the flag in two tion of his own, believes the city's biggest fire in two years was deliberately set.

The blaze, which destroyed the vacant 69-year-old waterfront landmark, broke out at 4 p.m. Saturday and kept firemen on the job all night.

It attracted an estimated 7,000 spectators to the Government-Mill Street area on Mild Ray.

The new outbreak was in serious and was put do quickly by city firemen.

ernment-Mill Street area on Mud Bay.

Lost in the spectacular fire were wooden frame and corrugated sheet iron sheds covering about 40,000 square feet of land.

Premises had not been used as a mill since Crowe Gonnason went into voluntary liquidation in June, 1958. Mill machinery was sold by public auction in September of that year, and apart from incidental equipment, plumbing and wiring, the sheds had lain empty for about 17 months.

At about the same time they were called to another mill, Moore-Whittington Lu m be r Co., 2615 Bridge, where welder's sparks set fire to loose material under a green chain. There was no structural damage.

Buildings became a favorite playground for adventuresome children and a target of adult looters who bothered the owners by removing electrical wiring and other items.

Reader suggests purchasing 25 cents worth of hydrochloric acld and a medium-sized paint brush. Work on four or five stones at a time. Paint with acid, let dry then using a stiff brush, gently brush stones to let dirt drop into firepla (Use a good stiff brush and be sure fireplace is cold.)

Acid coat may be applied two or three times depending on amount of smoke on stones. When they are clean, rub with Dutch Cleanser and then wash with a little soap and water. This process may have to be repeated several times depending on how dirty stones are.

It is most important that the hydrohloric acid does not touch metal or clothing. It would be wise to wear rubber gloves while painting.

Shake 'Em Up!

Pancake fans all over the ountry have found that the nuch talked about shaker much talked about shaker method is a real energy-saver. This method was based on the idea that 'tis easier to shake than stir, so why stir? In case you've never tried it, all you do is put all your ingredients in a shaker . . . ready-mix, milk, eggs, shortening . . . just dump everything in and shake 'em up — about a dozen times—and there's your batter ready to pour.

It's much faster and easier than the old mixing-bowl-and-spoon method, and just look at the delicious results. You see, it's been proved that slightly lumpy batter makes lighter, fluffier pancakes, and the shaker method blends your batter just right.

Most plastic or glass shakers will do the trick, although plastic, wide mouthed on es (marked for quantities, if pos-sible) are best. Try shaking up your pancakes for Tuesday morning—Pancake Day. A GRIPPING HOUR—If the ratings are right then Thursday night's crime series "The Untouchables" is exactly that—untouchable.

This is the series that has made TV's greatest HARDBOARD SPECIALS weekly drama, Playhouse 90, move from its hitherto impregnable stronghold to a haphazard basis. It has

This state of affairs has never failed to amaze me True I have written several raves following earlier presentations but to my mind they have a sameness brought about by the subject—the hoods and cops who warred during and after the Al Capone era. Therefore Indeed the only reason I turned to "The Unhired Assassin" last Thursday was because it was a twoparter and was to deal with an attempted assassination on the life of President Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

There will be those-and I think rightly-who will CLEVERLY WRITTEN, the story kept two different and unrelated themes going simultaneously. The first concerned an immigrant who was described by narrator Walter Winchell as "Joe, a man of pronounced homicidal tendencies." Joe is obviously bent on slaying President Roosevelt for no other reason than that he is president. The second dealt at length with the mob's attempt to liquidate Chicago's honest Mayor Anton Cermak, played handsomely by Robert Middleton.

In short: After seeing the first half who would plan for want to miss the final hour next Thursday at 9.30

Certainly I wouldn't.

I have never rued missing one if something else of interest was about because, to my mind, "The Untouchables" plays look pretty much like buses. If you miss one you can always catch another, claim that the unfolding drama paid too much attention to detailed violence, such as a vicious fist-fight and the sight of a pants-presser blowing himself up. Nonetheless, "The Unhired Assassin" possessed what a vehicle of this order needs if it is to succeed, flint-hard dialogue, neat, cohesive action and even a modicum of sick humor such as when the two thugs threw the body of the Boston lawyer into the black waters of the river. Said one: "D'yuh think he'll make it back t' Boston, okay?" Replied the other: "Maybe, but not in time for Christmas." Their laughter was diabolical.

And how pleased I was that I had.

At hour's end the mayor was still alive but the ald-be assassins were dead, laid out cold and stark in the gutter. Final scene: Immigrant Joe going into a pawn shop to buy the $8.50 revolver for sale.

Why Is There a February 29 Every Four Years?

Why Is There a February 29 Every Four Years?

Today is leap year day and several thousand new babies will be born. Must the poor little darlings wait four years to celebrate their first birthday party? Not at all. People born of leap year day have a choice. They may celebrate on Feb. 28 or March 1 for three years. Once in every four years they have a birthday on Feb. 29.

Our calendar is based on the earth's rotation around its axis and its revolution around its orbit. It rotates once in about four minutes short of 24 hours. With each rotation it faces the sun with first one side, then another, which gives us a day and night, Each day and night period is one date on the calendar.

The calendar year is based on the selection of the gives us a day and night, Each day and night period is one date on the calendar.

The calendar year is based on the solar year—the time it takes the earth to orbit from the calendar is last the fourth year. We now have a whole day, a date which we can add to the calendar. We give this extra leap year day to poor little February which, as a rule, has only 28 days.

Leap year falls every four years on a year whose number calendar.

The calendar year is based on the solar year—the time it takes the earth to orbit from the could pile up.

Plant which is a contradiction in taste (65) 7. Plea the nine make in a clumsy manner (11) 9. Rousing, and so irritating (9) Adjustment Due 2000 AD

This is adjusted with the centurial years, those whose numbers end with two zeros. We have a leap year only when a centurial year can be divided by 400. The next centurial year will be 2000 and, since this number can be divided by 400, the year will be a leap year. The centurial year following will be 2100. We cannot divide this number by 400 and have the answer come out a whole number, hence the centurial year 2100 will not be a leap year.

Even so, our calendar is not noticed. In 4,000 years there is a leap year and a day. What's more, the number of days in the months is hap, hazard. There is talk of a calendar reform on a world-wide basis. This new calendar would save untold hours of b ook keeping and simplify countless pages of records. So, let's hope that the United Nations will make us a present of this new streamlined calendar. It is suggested that in this up-to-date calendar, leap year day will be a world-wide holiday.

Separate Pact With Germany If Talks Fail

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today Russia will sign a separ-ate peace treaty giving East Germany control of West Berlin if the Big Four summit talks in May fail to reach agreement on an over-all German settlement.

Khrushchev said Russia is trying to convince the West of the need for a peace treaty on all Germany. If this is not concluded, he said, Russia will sign a separate agreement with East Germany.

If that happens, he said, all postwar agreements affecting Germany "would cease to be validy and West Berlin would come under the authority of Communist East Germany "because West Berlin stands on territory belonging to the East German Democratic Republic."

Khrushchev also rejected the idea of a German plebiscite to determine whether the Russian or Western plan for unification of that divided country should be accepted.

Canadian stock markets closed lower for the eighth consecutive week and investors, adopting a wait and see attitude, remained on the sidelines hoping for news that would spark a rally.

The previous week the market showed signs of a rally when it shook off a sizable mid-week loss and started upwards. But investors' hopes were dashed when the industrial index suffered an eightpoint loss during the latter part of last week.

7,000 See Blaze Destroy Landmark

Investigators from the B.C. fire marshal's office were due in Victoria today to start an investigation of the $200,000 blaze which Saturday afternoon destroyed most of the Crowe Gonnason Co. Ltd. mill.

Fire Chief James Bayliss, after a preliminary investigation of his own, believes the city's biggest fire in two years was deliberately set.

The blaze, which destroyed the vacant 68-year-old waterfront landmark, broke out at 4 p.m. Saturday and kept firemen on the job all night.

It attracted an estimated 7.000 spectators to the Government-Mill Street area on Mud Bay.

Lost in the spectacular fire were wooden frame and corrugated sheet iron sheds covering about 40,000 square feet of land.

Premises had not been used as a mill since Crowe Gonnason went into voluntary liquidation in June, 1958. Mill machinery was sold by public auction in September of that year, and apart from incidental equipment, plumbing and wiring, the sheds had lain empty for about 17 months.

Arson Difficult to Prove

To Fire Chief James Bayliss it appeared the fire was deliberate, "but trying to prove it is another matter."

He said he arrived at the scene moments after the first fire-fighting apparatus, went to the heart of the blaze off an alleyway running from Mill Street parallel to Government and "by the time I went around to the west end of the buildings the fire was already there."

From personal knowledge he knew the plant interior had been cleaned up.

A spokesman for the owners said all services had been disconnected as on chance of fire caused by an electrical short circuit.
